Chinese Reds Angrily Reject India Truce Plan

Communists Demand Panmunjom Talks Be Reopened

TOKYO (AP) — Red China today blasted hopes for an early truce in Korea by angrily rejecting a United Nations peace appeal based on India's plan for an exchange of prisoners of war.

Peiping's reply came from Foreign Minister Chou En-lai, who called the U. N. General Assembly resolution illegal, unreasonable, unfair and degenerate.

He demanded that the U. S. resume truce talks at Panmunjom along the lines proposed by Russian Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky. The talks have been suspended since October.

Chou's answer to Lester B. Pearson of Canada, U. N. Assembly president, was broadcast over Peiping radio. Pearson had sent the text of the U. N. resolution and an 800-word personal appeal for its acceptance to both the Red Chinese and the North Koreans.

Called for Commission

The Indian plan provided for a commission consisting of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland to handle the repatriation of all prisoners of war. Those declining repatriation would be turned over to the United Nations.

The Russians, voting against the proposal suggested an immediate cease-fire and a political conference with Red China and North Korea sitting in to settle the prisoner issue.

In his reply to Pearson, Chou insisted upon the "unconditional, speedy and total repatriation of prisoners of war."

Washingtonville Firemen Seek Help For Family

Members of the Washingtonville Volunteer Fire Department, who are on their toes in emergencies, have discovered a family of five living in a Washingtonville area whom they are anxious to help back on their feet.

The family, William Cantwell, 32, his wife, Pearl, 23; and their three children, William, Jr., 4; Caroline Joyce, 2; and Mary Lou, eight months, were burned out completely at Darlington, Pa., Oct. 15, and migrated to Washingtonville where friends offered them living quarters.

There is no gas available, so cooking is done on a coal stove which is also used for heating.

Mr. Cantwell is a former truck driver and can do mechanical work. He has been working part time, but the family could use food, clothing, furniture, bedding, dishes, silverware, or most anything to help them get a start again.

Anyone who wishes to help may make deliveries at the Washingtonville Town Hall, or for pick-up call Harry DeLucia, Leetonia 8371, or contact Fire Chief George Boston or any of the other Washingtonville fire department members.

Woman Faces Death In Electric Chair For Killing Of Husband

BATAVIA, O. (AP) Mrs. Dovie Dean today faced death in the electric chair for the poisoned-milk death of her 68-year-old husband.

Her attorney, Hugh C. Nichols, pledged Sunday a continued fight to keep the 54-year-old farmwife from becoming the second woman in Ohio history to be electrocuted.

He said when he and assistant defense counsel Dan West and John L. Watson were appointed by the court to defend Mrs. Dean, they promised to give her "the best defense possible."

"... Now that the case has been decided against us, we expect to continue the efforts even at the expense of considerable time in order to discharge fully the duty we assumed," he declared.

A Clermont County Common Pleas Court jury found Mrs. Dean guilty of first degree murder Saturday and did not recommend mercy. This means Judge Harry Britton must impose a death sentence.

He visited his family here in October before leaving for Korea Nov. 14.

A veteran of three years' service in the Marine Air Corps during World War II, he remained in the reserves following his discharge in 1945. He was recalled to active duty November, 1951.

The veteran pilot was treasurer of the Cortland Trucking Co., Cortland, N.Y., when recalled. He attended Youngstown College for two years prior to entering the Marines and graduated from Syracuse University after his discharge.

He attended Boardman schools, graduating from the high school there in 1940.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth, and two children, Susie Rae, 6, and Jeffrey, 21 months, all of whom reside in Rensselaer, N.Y.; his parents; two brothers, John and Fred, and a sister, Mrs. George North of Youngstown.

Ike Optimistic On Peace For Korea

*NEW YORK (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower goes back to work in his New York headquarters today, prepared to map "positive programs" for bringing peace in Korea.

He said he returned from his trip to the war zone with new confidence about the outlook for speeding a satisfactory solution.

In two public statements yesterday, the general expressed optimism.

At the same time, however, he repeated his view that no simple formula is at hand, and he said patience, foresight and common sense will be needed in finding one.

Eisenhower gave no indication when he plans to meet with Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

May Meet This Week
MacArthur declared in a speech in New York 10 days ago: "I am confident there is a clear and definite solution to the Korean conflict." Several days later, Eisenhower messaged MacArthur that he would like to talk with him and MacArthur replied that he would be agreeable. The two generals may meet here this week.

The President-elect said on his return here yesterday that his trip was a starting point for his own planning. At LaGuardia Field he said:

"Everyone of us thinks we have learned something to make this expedition a sort of starting place from where we are going to plan the programs we are going to adopt."

To Be Positive Program
"And we expect them to be positive programs. Because you know, my friends, just because one side wants peace doesn't make peace. We must go ahead and do things that induce the others to want peace also."

This phrase — "do things that induce others to want peace also" — was contained in an extemporaneous statement at the airport.

Eisenhower also had a prepared statement for reporters when his big Constellation landed. In that, he said something that sounded similar to the off-the-cuff remark.

He said:

"We face an enemy whom we cannot hope to impress by words, however eloquent, but only by seeds — executed under circumstances of our own choosing."

He gave no indication of what he meant. On the contrary, he said he is limited in what he can report publicly. "As we all know," he added, "certain aspects of battle problems cannot ever be discussed publicly."

The general tone of both statements, however, was a qualified optimism. "All of us have long realized," he said in the prepared statement, "that there can be no simple formula for bringing a swift, victorious end to this war. But at the very least, that knowledge prepares us for whatever

Packed Auditorium Hears Yule Vespers

The seventh annual Christmas vespers of the Salem High School Chorus was presented Sunday in the High School Auditorium to an overflow crowd.

Adding to the beauty of the program was the stained glass window setting in which the choir stood.

Especially enjoyed was the presentation of "Mountains" by the Robed Choir; the Girls Chorus' rendition of "Gesu Bambino" with violin obligato by Nancy Bailey; and "Twelve the Night Before Christmas" by the Robed Choir.

Unusually effective was the story of Christmas carols presented by puppets which concluded the vespers.

Thomas Crothers, supervisor of music in the Salem public schools, directed the 170-voice chorus. Accompanists were Bruce Snyder, Joan Engelmeier and Joan Yarian.

United Propaganda Campaign Against Reds Urged To NATO

PARIS (AP) — Premier Alcide de Gasperi of Italy asked top ministers of the 14-nation Atlantic alliance today to stage a united propaganda campaign against the Communists.

Russia is doing just that against the Western democracies, the Italian premier said in a speech at the opening meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's top council.

"Should it not be necessary for the free countries," he demanded, "rich in ideas and political experience, to express their ideas and implement them in common?"

Preceding de Gasperi, the council chairman, Danish Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft, told the ministers "we are now approaching the stage at which we feel safe from outward aggression." He warned, however, "the picture may change very suddenly" and that the NATO goal of a "balance (with the Soviet bloc) has not yet been created."

120 Communists Hurt In Mutiny; Two Gls Injured

Uprising Believed Part Of Planned Mass Outbreak

PUSAN, Korea (AP) — The Allied Prisoner of War Command reported today that 82 Communist prisoners were killed and 120 wounded in a mutiny by die-hard civilian internees in a camp on the island of Pongam Sunday.

An official announcement said American and South Korean soldiers quelled the uprising and maintained uncontested control.

The prisoners on Pongam are North Koreans.

The announcement said the uprising probably was a part of recently intercepted Communist plan indicating preparations for a mass breakout.

2 Americans Hurt
Two American soldiers and two South Korean soldiers were injured by thrown rocks, the command reported.

About 3,600 of the camp's 9,000 internees participated in the simultaneous uprising in six separate compounds.

The Allied command said many of the mutineers were former inmates of notorious Compound 62 on Koje, where bloody rioting broke out last Feb. 18.

The POW Command announcement said:

"Die-hard Communist civilian internees (reclassified Communist prisoners of war) mutinied in a UNC camp on the island of Pongam at 1 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 14. United Nations soldiers of the United States and Republic of Korea Armies quelled the uprising and maintained uncontested control of the situation. Eighty-two prisoners died and 120 were wounded in the abortive uprising which probably was a part of recently intercepted Communist plans indicating preparations for a mass breakout. Since the discovery of these plans, U. N. guards have been alerted for any such contingency."

"Two U. S. soldiers and two Republic of Korea Army soldiers were injured by thrown rocks."

The uprising occurred in UNC Camp No. 1C on Pongam, a small island west of Koje. Pongam is a steep, terraced windswept camp. The approach to buildings housing Communists on each of the ter-

Reds Wrest Hill From S. Koreans

Report Patrol Action On Rest Of Front

SEOUL (AP)—Chinese Reds struck through rain and snow today at three heights on the Central Korean Front, wresting one outpost from hard-fighting South Koreans. The Chinese hit Pinpoint Hill, Rocky Point and outpost positions on the lower slopes of Triangle Hill. They overran two South Korean outposts in pitched battles, but counterattacking Republic of Korea troops recaptured the larger one.

The most intense fighting was on the southeastern slopes of Triangle Hill where some 80 Chinese in padded uniforms charged out of the freezing night.

The attack started before midnight and lasted until dawn. The first wave swept over a minor outpost. The charge finally carried through the main outpost, but ROKs pushed the Chinese back just before daybreak.

The Reds hit with a full company — about 175 men — on Pinpoint Hill, dominating height on Sniper Ridge. They pulled back before sunrise.

On nearby Rocky Point, the Reds hurled squad-sized assaults three times before calling them off at dark yesterday. The Eighth Army reported scattered patrol and probe contacts across the remainder of the battlefield. Big and Little Nori, where fighting raged for several days, was quiet.

Allied warplanes damaged two MIG15 jets in a flurry of 10 air battles over Northwest Korea.

Fifteen U. S. Superforts Sunday night blasted a supply center and an ore-processing plant in Northwest Korea. The Kyomipo steel mill storage area southwest of Pyongyang and a Red Korean military headquarters near the capital city also were bombed.

Probe Blast On U.S. Jet Bomber

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Air Force officials from Lockbourne Air Base today were investigating Sunday's in-flight explosion of an RB-45 four-engine jet reconnaissance bomber which took the life of one of its three-man crew.

Investigators found the body of First Lt. John S. Brace, 23, of Columbus, still strapped in his ejection seat, on a farm in Pickaway County, five miles from the base. They theorized since his body showed no signs of burns, he may have vaulted safely out of the plane only to have his parachute fail.

Two other crew members, Maj. John E. Dougherty of Los Angeles and Capt. Eugene Snyder, commander and pilot respectively of the doomed ship were blown clear of the plane and parachuted to safety.

They were treated for serious cuts and burns at the base hospital.

Debris from the plane was scattered over a two-mile area. The plane blew up only four minutes after it left the base.

Storm Breaks Ship In Half

40 Men Aboard Awaiting Rescue

LEGHORN, Italy (AP) — Raging seas drove the U. S. Navy refrigerator ship Grommet Reefer aground and broke it in half near here today.

U. S. Army and Navy personnel put a cable aboard and were attempting to rescue the 40 men on the ship, but in mid-morning the Army base said high winds and seas so far had prevented bringing anyone ashore.

The 2,460-ton ship, carrying food for U. S. forces in Austria, had been anchored here. Buffeted by high winds and seas, it dragged anchor during the early hours this morning and crashed onto the rocks about a mile south of the Leghorn port area.

The ship broke in half almost immediately. The stern with the crew aboard remained fixed on the rocks. The bow portion drifted free and was still floating around the harbor hours later.

The ship's skipper, a Capt. Saukant, reported none of his crew was hurt.

All the crew are civilians. The Army said the grounded stern section was about 100 yards from the shore and the rescuers hoped to bring the men ashore with a breeches buoy.

The heavy surf, whipped up by strong winds off the Mediterranean, prevented small boats from approaching the vessel.

The ship's cargo was 176 tons of perishable foods, including seven tons of turkey Christmas dinners for American personnel here and in Austria.

Limping Wage Stabilization Program Prodded Into Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — With 12,000 wage boosts awaiting approval, the government prodded its limping wage stabilization program back into action today to accommodate unions and employers.

Administration of the entire pay controls setup was changed over the week end when President Truman, despairing of getting industry men back into service on the Wage Stabilization Board, turned the problem over to Economic Stabilizer Roger L. Putnam.

Putnam, whose own resignation takes him out of government in a few days, turned the situation over to Chairman Charles C. Killingsworth and three other public members of the WSB. They were empowered to carry on wage controls.

Instead of the WSB with equal numbers of members representing the public, industry and labor, Killingsworth and his three public members are to administer wage controls. They asked the labor members to stand by for "advice" in handling future cases.

It seemed probable that, although Putnam held out hope for wooing industry men back to posts on the wage board, pay curbs in the five weeks until the new Republican administration comes in to power will be handled by Killingsworth's wholly governmental setup, without formal labor and industry help.

The controversy leading to this situation was set off by Truman's handling of a coal miners' pay increase. He approved all of the miners' negotiated raise after the WSB had approved only part of it. The WSB's industry members resigned, accusing the President of yielding to political expediency.

Killingsworth seemed likely to tackle a backlog of 12,000 pending union - employer agreements by giving broader delegations of power to the WSB's staff. Well over a million workers are believed to be involved in the cases.

Gen. Beightler Returns To U.S.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler, the Ohio engineer who rose from Army private to general, is returning to the United States from Okinawa for medical treatment. He will not return to his post as commanding general of the Ryukyu Islands.

Army headquarters announced Sunday that Gen. Beightler, who commanded Ohio's 37th Infantry Division for five years, is being sent to Walter Reed Hospital, Washington, for treatment of a heart condition.

The 60-year-old military hero whose service spans more than 41 years is returning to the United States for the second time since World War II ended. In October, 1940, he led the 37th into federal service and through 43 months of the hardest fighting in the Pacific. He came back just seven years ago this week to command posts in this country until November, 1949 when he was assigned to build Okinawa into a Pacific bastion.

Beightler's career has been a combination of achievements as a soldier, politician and professional man. Born in Marysville, he attended Ohio State University and enlisted as a private in the 4th Ohio Infantry in 1911. He worked his way through the ranks, served as a lieutenant on the Mexican border and took part in five major campaigns in the first World War.

The area drained by the Mississippi River and its tributaries covers more than one third of the entire United States, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

1956 Is Another Year

It's noteworthy that Sen. Taft's critics and even his friends, having pointed out the danger to him of second-guessing the new "Mr. Republican," still half-admire him for his refusal to approve the Durkin appointment.

Sen. Taft was back in his political character as the opponent of me-tooism. He was back on the job as the tough thinker who kept the Republican party from being turned into a pale imitation of the New Deal by a succession of me-too candidates.

Had it not been for Taft, there would have been no loyal opposition for Gen. Eisenhower to lead to victory at the polls this year. Taft can't be blamed for wanting to remind the new party leader of the futility of unity in a two-party system.

Voters want a choice when they go to the polls.

They made a choice last election day when they elected Eisenhower instead of the candidate who had the support of labor leaders.

Sen. Taft, wise in politics, may be thinking of 1956 and trying to keep his party from handicapping itself with a resurgence of me-tooism in the same place where it originated in 1944 and 1948.

Holding That Line

With certain notable exceptions, the 1953 automobiles and their tentative price tags have been disclosed. In a few more days, everything will be ready for the toughest sales competition the automobile industry has known since the end of the thirties.

One thing about the industry's advance planning is particularly significant. The automobile industry is holding the price line. Here and there it is making small decreases. In the light of mechanical and styling changes, it is giving the customer more for his money than he was getting before — and when competition stiffens the customer will get a little more.

That is the way it used to be in the automobile industry when each year's new business was sought with the promise of greater value for less money.

That was pointed to as the built-in benefit of the mass-production-mass-consumption equation — that the standard of living moved ever upward as the cost of production was trimmed by endless efficiency.

An old policy has been revived in the business which made it famous.

Inflation finally has been stopped.

MacArthur Could Be Wrong

Everybody feels better because Dwight Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur show signs of being able to swap opinions on Korea.

America's best-qualified expert on Asia and the next president of the United States apparently will be compatible. That will be a change from the condition which existed after Harry Truman relieved MacArthur of all responsibility because of alleged insubordination to his commander in chief.

Time and events have made MacArthur look a great deal better than Truman as the result of that clash of personalities and policies. Despite the fact MacArthur says his opinion never has been sought since, it never has been out of mind.

Gen. Clark, now on the scene in Asia, obviously shares it closely. There have been revisions since a committee of Congress reviewed it in the early summer of 1951, but essentially it is still a plan to accomplish something more in Korea than a standoff on a peninsula.

MacArthur could be wrong. But at the close of 1951 it's clearer than it ever was before that everybody else has been wrong, too.

15 Minutes A Year

More memorable than most annual observances is the 161st anniversary of the Bill of Rights. The charter of American freedom became effective Dec. 15, 1791.

Americans cannot spare 15 minutes a year from their arduous lives to re-read the Bill of Rights and digest its significance. But they should.

There was a time when no one dared question the prerogatives of rulership. Property could be taken over, men could be imprisoned, weapons could be outlawed, religions could be forbidden — and no dissent could be made.

The questioning which led to freedom began in England before Magna Carta in 1215. That document gave certain guarantees to the subjects of the king. Freedom went on from there.

At no time and in no society have the rulers and would-be rulers ever given up without a struggle. And they have not lost. There are tougher, tighter and more ruthless dictatorships today than there were in the 13th century.

The price of liberty is eternal vigilance, which would be easier to believe in if Americans would spend 15 minutes a year reading their Bill of Rights, with a few extra minutes spent on the rest of the Constitution of the United States.

Problems For Ike

By PETER EDSON

Tax Riddles Could Put President In Doghouse

The new President of the United States may well bump his head on some tough new tax and fiscal problems weeks before he ever gets to warm his britches on his new White House chair.

For instance, how is he going to balance the budget, covering the $7 billion to $10 billion deficit which he will inherit from the Truman administration in the first six months of 1953?

A short-term, public-debt issue of $8.86 billion, 11-month Treasury notes bearing 1½ per cent interest, will come due on Feb. 15, 1953. This will be the new administration's first big refinancing operation. How will it be handled? Every bank will watch.

The last Treasury note issue to be refunded was for $10.8 billion bearing 1½ per cent interest. It came due Oct. 1 and was refunded for 14 months at 2½ per cent interest.

The new President and his Secretary of the Treasury may try to continue this "cheap money" period by trying to refinance the issue expiring on Feb. 15 at the old rates. Or, the new administration may be willing to let this rate rise a little. This is what many bankers want. They want the Democratic "cheap money" era to end.

BUT IF THE NEW fiscal policy allows this short-term interest rate to rise too much, it will get close to the interest rate which long-term government bonds have customarily paid. Part of the new government's debt into long-term bond issues. Gradually this might force up all interest rates and so increase the cost of government as well as private borrowing.

The savings bond program comes into this picture, too. For some months past, total redemptions of matured and unmatured savings bonds have been in excess of sales.

The program is not considered to be in bad shape. But the problem faced by the new administration will be whether to offer, say, 3 per cent interest on new savings bonds to increase purchases.

New administration policies on all these government borrowing problems will have to be determined early.

Tax rates present the new President with similar problems.

The excess profits tax expires for any taxable year beginning after June 30, 1953. Rate changes in surtax on individual incomes expire Dec. 31, 1953. So do the surtax rates on the head of a household and the limit on combined individual normal and surtaxes. Excise tax increases of the 1951 revenue act expire March 31, 1954.

THESE THREE ITEMS bring in an estimated $8 billion in revenue a year. Will the new President want to renew them, or let them die and take a chance on being able to cut government spending by that much later on?

Social Security payroll deduction tax rates are scheduled to go up from 1½ to 2 per cent for both employers and employees on Jan. 1, 1954, for a five-year period. This increase has been postponed in years past. But since both political parties are on record in favor of expanding the social security system, this time the rise may stick.

But all these matters bring up the possibility of a brand new tax program under the leadership of a new President. Complete overhaul of the federal tax code has been advocated for many years, but never put through. The New Man will have a chance to show what he can do here, if he has a mind to. And the political chickens in the campaign promises to cut taxes will then begin to come home to roost.

Christmas List

With the shortest day of the year almost here and clothing sizes being bandied about like atomic secrets, it behooves a man to finish his Christmas list.

For a figure soon to retire from P. 1, what could be nicer than to walk down the street without a bodyguard?

For the new occupant of the White House, could there be anything better than the unswerving loyalty and intelligent devotion of the men and women who will make or break his presidency?

So much for big shots. For little shots, nothing could be nicer than a parole from the life sentence of anxiety they have been serving — a little while to enjoy a sense of having everything under control, with no emergency panting down their collars.

For the long-suffering and unending heroes of a civilization geared to bloodshed, herewith a wish for firm certainty that all who remain safe at home will appreciate the high cost of security in the 20th century.

For young people developing a sense of futility about preparations for the future, there could be no better break right now than a glimmer of hope for something better than eternal war.

For all male persons about to receive socks, shirts, suspenders, garters, neckties, handkerchiefs, scarves, gloves and assorted furnishings — may the stuff fit and fill a real need.

For all who are in love and planning to make the holidays memorable, the priceless gifts of understanding and patience, without which all lesser gifts are without value.

For the religious and their pastors, who must have misgivings about the impressive popularity of a pagan symbol, the ability to be tolerant of the kid streak which makes so many of us want to believe in Santa Claus.

For all people who will have to work harder and longer than usual to get a tired old year out of the way, the blessing of good humor to ease the aching of overworked feet and overwrought minds.

When a man's Christmas list starts with two things which he is promptly informed are not obtainable anywhere at any price, there's nothing left to do but finish the thing with wishes. The hope is too far removed from reality to do anything else.

"You Bet I'm Interested In A Good Lightening Rod!"

Russian Scientists Play It Safe

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russian Communists are whining because their own scientists, whom they terrorized into conformity, are trying to play it safe by saying nothing which might get them into trouble.

The Soviet Journal—proceedings of the Academy of Sciences of the USSR, Division of Economics and Law—said not long ago about discussions among scientists:

"We often take more care that in them there are no mistakes or controversial positions taken than they present new facts and new questions....Many elements of playing safe were present in our work....Every manuscript had to go through seven or eight reviewing levels before it was published."

The result, the Journal said, was that the work became so depersonalized that no one individual could be held responsible. Everybody ducked. The Kremlin will not permit scientific inquiry, criticisms or conclusions that contradict the party line.

But, because the party line itself shifts, any worker in an intellectual field finds himself in double jeopardy. No matter what he says to conform to the party line today, if the party line shifts next month he may get exile or worse for what he said today.

Some Russian scientists, regarded as among the most brilliant in the world by scientists outside the Iron Curtain, have been disgraced, exiled or perhaps shot because the Kremlin found their work in conflict with party line or propaganda.

The Kremlin's terrorization of the scientists was most notoriously revealed in the field of genetics, the science of heredity. Its treatment of the outstanding Russian geneticists, whose ideas didn't meet the party's needs, got the most publicity.

The Kremlin decided that for its purposes — to show that mankind could change marvelously under the Soviet brand of communism — the hereditary factors should be played down and the environmental played up. Communism, of course, was the new special environment.

Over a period of a few years—the whole effort reached a climax about 1949 — the leading Soviet geneticists were disgraced or exiled or perhaps killed because of their emphasis on heredity and were replaced by men considered by leading scientists of the world to be charlatans who through phony scientific argument played up environment, derided heredity.

Backward Look At '52

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—This is the time when most people like to take a backward look and weigh the gains and losses of a waning year.

What happened to you in '52?

Historians assess a year by the mighty changes that take place in it, but most people remember it on a personal basis. A little girl may always remember 1952 as the year she took her first steps into a brave new world — kindergarten. An older girl may recall it as the period of crisis during which she finally made up her mind to dye her hair red.

For most of us a year is made memorable by how it touched us rather than in the way it affected the destiny of nations. A boy who put on long pants for the first time is more likely to remember 1952 for that reason than the fact that Britain lost a King and gained a queen.

By and large, 1952 has been a year of watchful waiting and gathering tension rather than one of tremendous and dramatic decision — except in the field of domestic politics.

There the deep disquiet among the American people created a landslide victory for Gen. Ike, but the real results of that political earthquake cannot be known before 1953.

No stars collided in the heavens, but a potential H-bomb weapon was exploded in the Pacific. And what is the full meaning of that? We do not yet know.

New rumblings of unrest stirred in the teeming millions of Africa and Asia. The war in Korea coiled deeper in its long stalemate.

The average man earned more money and paid more taxes in 1952 than he ever had before. The nation as a whole ate higher on the hog than at any previous time in its history.

As a people we were probably never better off. But despite the fact we had more money to spend, and more gadgets to buy, we weren't particularly happy about our prosperity. We worried, "How long will it last?"

It has been a restless and uneasy 12 months, probably because we weren't sure whether the world was teetering toward peace or tottering toward war. The yearning for some kind of certainty and security grew among us.

Probably years and years from now most of us will look back at 1952 and wonder, "Why wasn't I more grateful? It was a good time."

But right now the average man feels that in 1952 he only grew a little older, grayer, wearier — and more puzzled. He had a job, he ate well, he bought a new car or television set. But he still holds a vague resentment against 1952 because it didn't give him a clear answer to the main problem on his mind — what lies ahead?

Three M's Of Today

By TRUMAN TWILL

Friends of ours spent a long weekend recently visiting their son and daughter-in-law at a well-known military installation. The kids live in a trailer.

They like it so well that when they get out of service they're going to keep it. Until they get around to raising a family, they want no part of a house. Mom and pop say they don't blame them. The trailer was fine. The old folks stayed in a hotel and did their visiting in the daytime.

Incidentally, on a visit last summer it was noteworthy that my cousin's son and his wife and baby prefer to live in a trailer parked in the old man's side yard. He has plenty of room in the house, but they value their privacy.

Other friends of ours who moved into a place the size of a summer hotel a few years ago discovered suddenly when their three children grew up that they were rattling around in a place the size of a summer hotel.

So they built a place about the size of a motel, relatively speaking, and sold out the big one. This one, they say, is the end of the line. It's all on one floor, everything's as nearly automatic as it can be made, and they're through worrying about house-keeping.

Still other friends of ours with the experience of living in oversized houses for about the last 12 years to guide them, are selling out the big place and building one of the new one-level efficiency layouts.

Their idea, too, is to get their housekeeping modernized, — rainmized and mechanized, the three M's of today's living.

In our own family, the same thing happened, though on a smaller scale. It suddenly became clear that life was real, life was earnest but for Pete's sake a woman deserved to get something more out of it than a year-round workout with a mop and a sponge. So in our case we moved into a cottage — small out of the soot-fall.

With the sole exception of families which are adding children and need the extra room for growing purposes, no one is interested in big houses any more, not even the people who can afford to hire the household help to run them comfortably.

Mansions and estates built in the age of ostentation are having to be sold for peanuts to get rid of them. Many are being torn down to get rid of them because no one wants them at any price; no one wants them as a gift.

The age of ostentation in terms of size and magnificence is over. The most enviable thing to possess in the new age now getting under way is comfort, privacy and freedom from the needless drudgery of caring for unused and unwanted space.

The people who used to want mansions now want ranch houses with built-in facilities for enabling human beings to live like human beings, not like retainers and prisoners in feudal castles.

And those with an itchy foot want their ranch houses on wheels. There has been a revolution in housing since the twenties which will make a deeper impression on historians than the atomic bomb,

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

Inaugural Or Vaudeville?

A Hollywood man has been named "Director of Entertainment" for the coming Washington inaugural, which is to last three days and nights. It is reported a million may be spent on the show. Well, naturally the Republicans are happy and a little hysterical over getting into the White House after twenty years in the desert. Everybody likes fun and frolic. But we think somebody should give warning that this is an historic inaugural of a president of the U.S.A., in a great tradition, and not a clambake, a carnival show or a midway strip teaser.

We are inaugurating Gen. Eisenhower, not Martin & Lewis, the Marx Brothers, Olsen & Johnson or the Band of the Month. It's to be a government function highlighting the glory of democracy, not a pitchmen's holiday. Better watch out, Bub, or we may have Hedy Lamarr administering the oath and Smith & Dale taking it.

If there ever was a time in history when dignity and the true meaning of the democratic process were important, this is it. We are in a global crisis, not a talent scout cold war. We stand in an hour when the threat is to the future of our country, not to the future of vaudeville, Hollywood or TV.

Fun is fun and a good laugh hurts nobody. We don't want the inaugural to be funeral. Let there be music and dancing and top entertainers of talent and taste, but thumbs down on the gagsters, the jukebox melodies and self-exploiting hams. No matter how controls stand at the time, let's keep them on ham, say we.

It wouldn't be pretty to see Ike taking office in the atmosphere of a Hollywood premiere, firemen's picnic or a try-out for a big video show to run in competition with Berle. However, if we are wrong and the people want it louder and funnier, how about the following program on one of the feature days?

1—Fair-Dealer Choristers giving out with "The End of a Perfect Day" and "Au Revoir but not Good-bye."

2—Ballad of the Departing Experimenters entitled, "Don't Shove."

3—Indian Rope Trick by Outgoing Economic Experts.

4—The GOP Zouaves in expert drills, formations and feats of gracefulness.

5—Bartone Solo, "They Wouldn't Believe Me," by Tom Dewey.

6—Cincinnati Glee Clubs.

7—Sen. Nixon and Dog.

8—Sen. Taft in his novelty act, "Sawing a Durkin in Half."

9—General MacArthur in a dramatic playlet, "The Plan."

10—Disappearance Act. By outgoing representatives and senators.

11—Ballad entitled, "Gangway!" By incoming representatives and senators.

12—Secretary Acheson sliding down a live wire on his head.

13—John Foster Dulles in "Through the Flaming Hoop," from the back of a UN-corn.

Finale — Monster Parade of Waltzing Elephants, featuring "Landslides," the Musical Pachyderm, playing, "Shall We Dance?" on the musical glasses.

Have you heard about the fellow who is working his way through Sing Sing so he can get a top boss job on the New York waterfront? ... We hear that a watchman when asked about the disappearance of a ten-ton shipment of steel from the docks replied, "I can't understand it ... unless MICE GOT INTO IT."

Mike DiSalle is back in Washington on OPA matters. (There's a fellow who doesn't appreciate a reprieve.)

Britain will permit a telecast of most coronation features. ... We have just ordered a larger TV set big enough to hold eight-horse hacks.

We wish somebody would develop an auto fast enough for us to get home in it before the new model came out.

The picture of a beauty contest winner, reclining on the national coat of arms, has been placed on Swedish money. ... It might be a good idea to try it generally. ... Money is losing its old-time clinging qualities. ... We may have to do something to associate it with beauty, shapely legs, love and romance to increase its value.

Army Of Parents Work 16 Hours To Erase 'Death Pond'

LEVITTOWN, N. Y. (AP) — An army of Levittown parents—with shovels and bulldozers for weapons, the lives of their children for a spur—early today erased "Death Pond" from their community's backyard.

Chief Warns Against Yule Fire Hazards

Fire Chief Clarence W. Wright today urged residents to exercise the utmost caution in the next few weeks to prevent fires from marring the holiday season.

The Christmas tree, center of holiday festivities in most homes, can easily become the center of tragedy, he warned. He asked residents to observe these precautions to avoid fires in their homes.

Choose a small tree and don't set it up until a few days before Christmas.

Place it in the coolest part of the house, away from fireplaces or radiators, and don't let it block an exit.

Stand it in water, or use a live tree planted in a tub of earth. Never use cotton or paper for decoration on or around the tree and do not put electric lights under the tree.

Use only electric lights and see that the wires are not frayed.

Provide a switch some distance from the tree for turning tree lights on and off. Don't plug or unplug them beneath the tree.

Throw away all gift wrappings as soon as the presents have been opened; don't let them pile up near the tree.

Do not leave tree lights burning when no one is home.

If needles near the lights turn brown, move the lights. When needles start to fall, take the tree down and discard it.

McCarthy To Continue Campaign Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) made it clear yesterday his personal campaign against subversives and security risks will continue during the next session of Congress.

McCarthy, a controversial figure throughout the last several years with his charges the Truman administration had Reds in key posts, will be chairman of the Senate Committee on Government Operations in the new GOP Congress.

He said in a radio interview that whether his committee goes into the Communist question depends on what steps the subcommittee now headed by Sen. McCarran (D-Nev.) takes along similar lines. In any case, he indicated his personal campaign is not at an end.

Patrol Urges Caution During Holiday Season

December, though traditionally the most festive month of the year, is also one of the most deadly, Cpl. Edward Mallory, officer in charge of the Salem State Highway Patrol barracks, pointed out today in cautioning against holiday hazards.

In fact, in terms of 100,000 vehicle miles driven, the mileage death rate hits an all-time high in December, he said.

Throughout most of the country the holiday season is accompanied by bad walking and driving weather. Snow, sleet, and rain play havoc with windshield visibility and also cut down on general visibility, making it difficult for motorists and pedestrians to see and be seen, he said.

Slippery or wet road surfaces multiply the driver's problems and lessen his control of his vehicle. Darkness, too, is a holiday menace. Longer hours of darkness which prevail throughout December add to the accident toll.

Another hazard is directly traceable to the holiday spirit. It is the increased amount of drinking done at this time of year.

All of these accident factors should be kept in mind these days, Cpl. Mallory declared, to prevent any one of them from turning a joyous holiday into a disastrous one.

Ike To Be Listed As 34th U. S. President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower, says the committee in charge of inauguration festivities, will be the 34th president of the U. S.

Grover Cleveland served two terms separated by four years so Eisenhower will be the 33rd man to be president. Government reference books list President Truman as the 33rd president but the official program for his inauguration in 1949 called him the 32nd.

Chairman Joseph C. McGarragh of the Eisenhower-Nixon Inaugural Committee said yesterday the Jan. 20 program will list Eisenhower as the 34th president "thus correcting the erroneous count."

Child, 13, Has Received 300 Pints of Blood

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Thirteen-year-old Gary Miller is alive today because Children's Hospital has given him 300 pints of blood.

He received his 300th yesterday. Gary was born with a blood disease called hypoplastic anemia. It was first noticed when he was only 7 weeks old. Pale and listless, he received his first transfusion then.

Every time he feels overly tired and starts to get pale, he and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Miller, know he is ready for another transfusion.

He plays mildly strenuous games and attends school with other children who are physically restricted.

CINCINNATI (AP) — The congregation of the Oakley Baptist Church has issued a call to the Rev. John E. Hasel of Villa Grove, Ill. to become their pastor. He would succeed the Rev. J. Oscar White who left last September for a pastorate in Steubenville.

Miss Norma Jean Ryser Wed Sunday To Earl George Irwin

Carrying the Bible her father carried through World War I, Miss Norma Jean Ryser was married to Earl George Irwin Sunday at 3 o'clock in the Bunker Hill Methodist Church.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Ryser of the Benton Rd. and the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Irwin of near Alliance pledged their vows in the presence of Rev. E. K. Barss, church pastor, and a large company of their friends and relatives.

Mr. Ryser escorted his daughter to the altar where palms, white snapdragons, pompons and mums combined in the background setting lighted by candles in twin candelabra.

Playing the nuptial prelude of organ melodies was Miss Evelyn Conkle, Miss Conkle also was accompanist when Richard Howenstein of Homeworth sang "Because," "Through the Years," "O Promise Me" an "You'll Never Walk Alone."

Mrs. Ryser made her daughter's lovely white lace and slipper sat in gown. She also fashioned the iridescent taffeta gown worn by Miss Shirley Ryser, who was her sister's maid of honor, and the gowns of Miss Irene Miller and Miss Marlene Struffler, bridesmaids.

White satin buttons outlined the back closing of the bride's rince-style gown, designed with a train. A high standup collar added distinction to the upper bodice and to the long pointed sleeves styled lace-over-satin. Lace edged her fingertip veil held in place by a white satin pleated half-hat trimmed with lilies of the valley.

Her father's Bible was covered with a white satin and beribboned white orchid.

Miss Shirley Ryser as maid of honor set the fashion for the gowns of the bridesmaids. Her gown of azalea pink iridescent taffeta was of colonial style designed with a short scalloped overskirt of iridescent silk organza.

Miss Millers and Miss Struffler's iridescent taffeta gowns were in a medium blue shade. All three attendants wore pleated headbands and mits to match their gowns. Complimenting their costumes were cameo necklaces and earrings. Each carried ribbon-bedecked baskets of yellow pompons and white mums.

Floyd Struffler of Homeworth was best man. Ushers were Robert McGirr of Homeworth and Eldon Morckel of Damascus.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Ryser chose a dress of navy moss crepe and lace with melon and navy accessories. Her corsage was pink carnations. Mrs. Irwin wore a green crepe dress with black accessories. Yellow carnations were in her corsage.

Mrs. Ryser not only made the gowns for the bridal party but she also made the four-tiered wedding cake which was the center of attraction at the refreshment table.

The newlyweds greeted nearly 250 guests at the reception in the church parlors. People were present from Salem, Lima, Akron, Alliance, Canton, Malvern, Damascus and other towns in the vicinity.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Jacob Maurer, Mrs. W. K. Heston, Mrs. T. W. Richards and Mrs. Frank Baird.

Undiscovered is the honeymoon destination of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin. For traveling the bride wore a gray and red two-piece tweed dress trimmed with red velvet. Her accessories were white and black. The orchid from her bouquet complemented her outfit.

The bride graduated from Goshen Union High School in 1952 and is employed in the office of the Electric Furnace Co.

The groom attended Alliance High School and is employed by the Supreme Dairy in Alliance. The couple will make their home in an apartment in Homeworth.

Jewish Women Fete Children At Memorial Building Party

A delightful Hanukkah party for the children of the members was given Sunday afternoon at the Memorial Building by Salem Section National Council of Jewish Women. The room was beautifully decorated in the traditional blue and white colors and the program was opened with a blessing over the Hanukkah recited by Marilyn Dubbs.

Games were led by Mrs. Hyman Chentow, who also told the children the story of Hanukkah. The celebration of Hanukkah commemorates ancient feast of lights which begins this year Dec. 13 and lasts eight days. Candles are lighted in the homes, starting with one the first evening, the number increases by one each evening until on the eighth night there are eight lights. This progression of lights is described as "a symbol of Jewish belief in gradual, constant increase of intellectual light, and of the slow but steady victory of spiritual enlightenment."

After the receiving of gifts, also a tradition of the Hanukkah holiday, refreshments were served by the committee comprised of Mrs. J. W. Neiman, Mrs. N. I. Walken, Mrs. Alfons Falkenstein and Mrs. Horace Schwartz.

The Hanukkah party will take the place of the December meeting for the Salem Section. The next meeting will be Jan. 13 in the Memorial building.

Members of the Martha Circle of Daughters of Emmanuel of the Emmanuel Lutheran Church opened their meeting with the singing of "Come Hither Ye Faithful" when they met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. George Theiss of Washington Ave. for a Christmas party and gift exchange.

Mrs. George Woerther, leader, read the Christmas story from Luke. A social evening was enjoyed, with games and contests providing entertainment. Mrs. John Bauman was prize winner for a game of "Hidden Proverbs."

A relay contest was won by Mrs. Brook Votaw, Mrs. Norman Muntz, Mrs. Peter Herman, Mrs. Bauman, Mrs. Fred Reed, Mrs. Mike Linder Jr., and Mrs. Matt Enggter. Mrs. Linder, Mrs. Votaw and Mrs. Muntz won the game of "Artists." For the ring throwing contest, Mrs. Muntz and Mrs. Votaw were winners.

Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Muntz and Mrs. Woerther. Christmas colors were carried out in tray decorations.

The next meeting will be the quarterly meeting with the other circles, Jan. 28.

Mrs. Miskimins Is New President

Mrs. Homer Miskimins was chosen president of the Ellsworth Road Club when members held election of officers Thursday at the home of Mrs. Edward Bonsall. Mrs. Aden Riffle was elected vice president and Mrs. Wade Schaeffer is the new secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. Albert Bonsall assisted the hostess in serving a coverdish dinner to the 22 members and guests. A Christmas program consisted of a reading by Mrs. Schaeffer entitled "Christ, The Door," "Jingle Bells" and "Away In A Manger" were sung by little Loretta Siegenthaler. A gift exchange was enjoyed.

The next meeting will be Jan. 8 at the home of Mrs. L. S. Richards of the Ellsworth Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stoerkle have moved to their new home on the Albany Rd.

Five Doctors Say Careless Use Of New Drugs May Hurt Blood

NEW YORK (INS)—Five government scientists warned today that the "casual use" of antibiotic wonder drugs—or even aspirin—may cause serious and possibly fatal blood disorders in some patients.

Their report said doctors who use powerful drugs "promiscuously," for example by giving patients a shot of antibiotic for minor infections, acne, or colds, may be needlessly exposing them to "serious drug reactions."

The warning was released today by Dr. Henry Welch and his associates in the Food and Drug Administration of the Federal Security Agency. It appears in the current issue of "Antibiotic and Chemotherapy," a medical journal.

The doctors made the first nationwide study of the effect of drugs on blood disorders and found that blood disease or other side effects occasionally could be caused by these common medicines:

Sulfonamide drugs, wide-range antibiotics except penicillin, arsenic compounds, common anesthetic such as aspirin, barbiturates and anti-fever compounds.

The survey was launched last August when one of the newest antibiotic wonder drugs, chloromycetin, was involved in several cases of blood disorders, some of them fatal. Most of the patients suffered aplastic anemia, in which both red and white blood cells are destroyed.

Dr. Welch and his colleagues found 55 cases of blood disease following the use of chloromycetin—and 341 cases in which other drugs, or no drugs, had been used. Forty of the cases involved antibiotics other than chloromycetin. The report called chloromycetin "an important and highly effective antibiotic that is used successfully on many patients for well-defined clinical indications."

But while very few people may have special sensitivity to the drug—in this case, 55 of about eight million who have taken it since 1949, or one in 145,000—the doctors accompanied by careful follow-up studies.

The same warning was applied to other powerful drugs.

Tea Claimed Left From Revolution Is Sipped

BOSTON (AP)—A spot of tea claimed to be made from leaves missed by revolutionists Dec. 16, 1773, was sipped yesterday in commemoration of the 179th anniversary of the Boston Tea Party.

A group of 13 descendants of Revolutionary war families and the British vice consul, Mrs. Muriel Rolls, toasted each other from 70-year-old teacups—made in England.

Edward Rowe Snow, an author, said he obtained the tea leaves from the late Jefferson Haskell Parker, who died Dec. 6 at the age of 99 years and 11 months. Parker reportedly obtained the leaves from a descendant of a survivor of the historic tea party who died in 1846.

It is estimated there are now 21 million bicyclists in the United States.

To Resign As Governor For Cabinet Post

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Douglas McKay, who returned yesterday from a week of conferences aboard the cruiser Helena with President-elect Dwight Eisenhower, said he will resign this week as governor of Oregon.

McKay said he then will go to Washington, D. C., for a series of conferences before taking over as secretary of the interior in Eisenhower's cabinet.

Tanned and relaxed after the mid-Pacific talks with Eisenhower and other key officials in the new administration, McKay told reporters who met his plane after a flight from Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., that he couldn't discuss what had been said at the pre-inauguration Cabinet meetings. But he did say that there would be a lot of hiring and firing in the Interior Department when he takes over. Among those to be fired, McKay said, is Reclamation Commissioner Michael Straus, who has advocated federal control of an expanded Columbia River power system.

McKay, who favored a program with more regional controls, declined to say who else might lose his job. But he said, "It is only natural that a new administration would appoint people sympathetic to the policies of the administration."

English Woman, 99, Baptized By Immersion

IPSWICH, England (AP)—Ninety-year-old Mrs. Kate Berrett put on a blue gown and walked calmly down the marble steps into a pool of pale blue water.

The Rev. George Bird, the minister of Bethesda Baptist Church, gently tipped her backwards and held her under water for a moment last night.

"Ever since I was 19, I had wanted to be baptized," said Mrs. Berrett later over tea, "but I was 90 before I could muster the courage."

Youngstown South Edges Salem, 59-54, In Tight Contest

Warriors Stall Effectively Late In 4th Period To Halt Quakers; Buckman Sinks 16

By SANDY HANSELL

Youngstown South, using an effective stall in the waning moments of the final period, turned back the determined Salem Quakers, 59-54, Saturday night at South Fieldhouse in Youngstown.

The exciting tilt, during which the lead changed hands 11 times as well as being tied on four occasions, kept the more than 500 fans on the edge of their seats up to the very end.

Salem, vastly improved following Friday's opener in Columbiana, held a slim 30-27 lead at halftime. After losing the lead briefly midway in the third period, the Quakers fought back to maintain a 38-37 advantage with only 2:41 remaining in the quarter.

South shot ahead again, 39-38, but Bill Buckman and Jack Gottschling netted four shots and Capt. Ed Votaw tapped in a rebound to move Salem in front, 42-39, with roughly a minute remaining in the third canto.

But two quick baskets and a foul shot put South ahead, 44-42, as the third quarter ended. That was the closest Salem ever got to South from then on.

IN THE FOURTH quarter, South threatened to pull away several times, but the Quakers, unlike their performance at Columbiana, refused to blow up. Coach John Cabas said afterwards he was quite pleased with his Salem team's performance in the clutch.

With only 4:13 left in the game, the Quakers were a mere three points behind, 51-48. At this point the game could have gone either way. Cabas said it was only a matter of which team got hot in the closing minutes. Unfortunately, it wasn't Salem.

South dumped in three quick baskets in the next minute, threatening to run away with the game. Although eight points behind with three minutes left, the Quakers

Big 10 May OK Rose Bowl Pact

Poll By AP Indicates Presidents Favor It

CHICAGO (AP)—Disclosure that the Big Ten is willing to pick up a tab of at least $10,800 to send its presidents and other officials on a free trip to the Rose Bowl game has heightened speculation today the pact with the Pacific Coast Conference will be renewed.

Authorization for the expenses-paid trip by the conference from proceeds of the Wisconsin-Southern California Rose Bowl contest Jan. 1 was revealed by The Associated Press Sunday.

A reliable source said the Big Ten's presidents, faculty representatives and athletic directors are offered the free trip "so they can evaluate the Rose Bowl at first hand and then form their own conclusions."

The current three-year pact between the Big Ten and Pacific Coast Conference expires with the 1954 game at Pasadena. Last week the PCC officially invited the Big Ten to renew the series.

A meeting between presidents of both conferences is scheduled Jan. 4 at Berkeley, Calif. The Rose Bowl matter could be ironed out then, although public announcement will be delayed.

A confidential Associated Press poll of Big Ten presidents and other officials indicates that a vote for renewal of the Rose Bowl contract possibly would carry by a 6-4 margin at this time.

Illinois, Ohio State, Michigan and Indiana indicated they are still for it. Minnesota, Northwestern and Purdue are still against it.

Iowa's president, Virgil M. Hancher, who a year ago came out in opposition, now says that he has "an open mind to arguments for it and against it."

Despite anti-bowl talk recently by Michigan State's president, John Hannah, the Spartans may vote yes.

Wisconsin, opposed in the past, is holding off commitment until after the Jan. 1 game.

Illinois Seeks 3rd Big 10 Title In Row

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois will open its campaign tonight for a third straight Big Ten basketball title—an accomplishment unmatched in the conference for 38 years.

The Illini, top ranked nationally in pre-season polls, start their league schedule at home against Michigan after only one warm-up game. Last week in the season debut Illinois downed Loyola of Chicago 71-57 as Johnny Kerr, 6-10 center, pumped in 34 points.

Michigan's revitalized team, with a souped-up fast-break introduced by new Coach Bill Perigo, was cooled off 85-77 by Iowa at Iowa City Saturday in the opening Big Ten game of the season.

In non-conference action Saturday, Kansas State edged Indiana, 82-80, with the Hoosiers' Don Schlundt heading a last quarter rally after being benched with four fouls; Butler nipped Ohio State 63-60; Purdue defeated Wabash 87-64, and Minnesota trimmed Nebraska 71-62.

Larry Stoffer, sophomore pivotman, showed up well in the rebounding department. He fouled out in the last 24 seconds.

Jack Gottschling was somewhat of a disappointment for the second straight game because of his hesitancy to drive and lack of shooting.

Compared to the first encounter, the rebounding by Salem was better and the ball-handling was much improved although a bit ragged in spots. A few times back passing proved costly, but, all in all, was fairly good for so early in the season.

THE QUAKERS' shooting from the field was off in comparison to the opener. They tried the same number of shots—57—but only managed to cage 16 for a 23.1 percentage.

The Warriors, although having a lower percentage, had 29 more shots, enabling them to outscore Salem from the floor. They made 22 of 86 tries for a 25.5 average.

Both teams did well at the foul stripe, Salem sinking 22 of 38 and South South caging 15 of 30.

Cabas, expressing optimism, said "We made them play our kind of game." "If we keep playing like this, we're going to win plenty of ball games. With a little more experience we're going to have a good team this year."

The Quakers will entertain New Castle, Pa., Cabas's former home town, here Friday night to open their home stand. Cabas is pointing for New Castle, mainly because of the disappointing 53-35 loss it handed Salem last season.

Browns To Play Rams Or Lions For Pro Football League Title

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns, a girdiron power since their organization in 1946, will play in their third straight National Football League championship game Dec. 28 but whether their opponent will be Los Angeles or Detroit is a matter that will be decided next Sunday.

The Browns four times winner of the defunct All-America Conference crown before joining the NFL, backed into the American Conference title yesterday. They dropped a 37-34 decision to the New York Giants while the Philadelphia Eagles, needing a victory for a tie, also fell before the Washington Redskins, 27-21.

Los Angeles' Rams needed a win to tie Detroit's Lions for first place in the National Conference and they got it—a 28-14 triumph over the Pittsburgh Steelers before 74,130, who packed Los Angeles' Coliseum in 100-degree temperatures.

The Lions had gone a half-game ahead of the Rams with a 41-6 victory over Dallas on Saturday but the Rams were equal to their eighth successive victory behind the aerial wizardry of Norm Van Brocklin.

The National Conference winner will be decided next Sunday in Detroit. The league's title game is slated for Cleveland. A year ago the Rams beat the Browns for the title in Los Angeles.

All in all it was quite an ending for a season in which at one time seven of the 12 teams were deadlocked for first place — four in the National Conference and three in the American.

Gordon Saltau of the San Francisco 49ers picked up 6 points via a field goal and three conversions in the 24-14 victory over Green Bay to win league scoring honors with 84 points.

The Rams' Dan Towler succeeded the Giants' Eddie Price as the circuit's top ground gainer with 894 yards in 156 carries.

Charley Conerly, showing no signs of an arm injury received two weeks ago, was the chief troublemaker for the Browns. The veteran quarterback threw four touchdown passes before a chilled Polo Grounds crowd of 41,610 as the New Yorkers whipped Cleveland for the second time this season.

Through the first half, the teams battled a 13-13 stalemate with Otto Graham and Conerly matching touchdown passes, Groza kicking two field goals and Joe Scott plunging over from the 1 for the other New York tally.

But Conerly threw three scoring heaves in the third period, which with Jim Poole's 15-yard fourth-quarter field goal was enough to stave off the last-minute rally of the Browns.

In the other league game the Chicago Bears edged the Chicago Cardinals, 10-7, on George Blanda's 10-yard field goal and seven-yard touchdown pass to Chuck Hunsinger.

"I don't know how any team in the league beats these kids (Giants) the way they play against us," said Cleveland Coach Paul Brown.

Earlier in the year the Giants walloped Cleveland, 17-9, but New York lost any chance it had to tie the Browns for the divisional championship by losing to the Washington Redskins a week ago.

Harry Jagade scored twice for Cleveland, getting the first tally of the day a little more than four minutes after the opening kickoff with an 11-yard jaunt around left end. He figured in one of the most thrilling TD plays of the game early in the fourth period, when Graham passed 10 yards to Mac Speedie, and the Brownie end lateraled to Jagade, who raced the last 46 yards to paydirt.

Conerly completed 16 of 26 passes for 184 yards, while Graham threw 32 and connected with 13 for 279 yards in the aerial circus.

After learning the Washington-Philadelphia score, Brown said: "I'll go in any old way, I ain't proud."

"We play to win all right," he added "but our main objective was to get in the playoffs" for the league title.

Dr. Vic Ippolito, team physician, hoped to get all the injured Browns back in shape before the championship game.

Hurt were place kicker Groza, halfback Dub Jones, end Speedie and tackle John Kissell. 3

N. J., took fourth.

"I'm going to take a week off and shop," said the 38-year-old champion. "Then I'll get back to the regular grind of competing in four leagues a week, plus exhibitions every week end."

In the 2 game finals of the nine-day meet, Mrs. Ladewig won 24 and lost only eight. She spilled 6,539 pins for an average of 204 and totalled 154.29 Petersen points.

The $2,000 men's award went to 16-year-old Don Carter of Detroit, a bowling instructor who used to set the leagues on fire in St. Louis. Carter averaged 205 through 64 games for 304.17 points.

Ed Lubanski, also of Detroit, matched Carter by winning 41 and losing 23 but trailed in pins -3,167 to 2,836. Lubanski's point score was 297.36. Bill Lillard of Chicago was third and Julie McMahon, defending champion from Fairlawn, N. J., took fourth.

Burke Defeats Mayer To Win Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Burke, handsome young ex-Marine from Houston, Tex., won the $10,000 Miami Opens golf tournament in a "sudden death" playoff Sunday to finish the 1952 circuit with the third biggest bankroll among the touring professionals.

Burke's pressure-packed win over Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., earned him a first prize of $2,000 and boosted his winnings for the year to $21,003.

The 29-year-old Burke ended the 72-hole route in a deadlock with Mayer at 273, seven under par.

His victory over Mayer came on the fifth extra hole. They had squared the first four with pars.

At the 500-yard 5th, the 27-year-old Mayer seized the advantage when he laid his third shot just three feet from the pin, while Burke was 10 feet away.

But Burke calmly rained in his ball for a birdie four, thus shifting the pressure to Mayer and the young Army tank corps veteran muffed his putt in a shot that cost him $800 in cash. Second prize was worth $1,400.

The playoff battle climaxed an exciting last-day scramble during which Doug Ford of Harrison, N. Y., the leader for three days, wilted under the closing pace. After three straight sub-par rounds, Ford took a three-over-par 73 to close in a fourth-place tie with Tommy Bolt at 275.

La Salle, Seton Hall Lead College Quintets

NEW YORK (AP)—The collegiate basketball season gains momentum this week with a host of games sprinkled around the country that should determine the relative strengths of many teams.

It's westward ho for highly touted La Salle of Philadelphia, last year's National Invitation champions, as the Explorers continue a cross-country tour.

The classy Pennsylvanians made their first stop at Dayton last night and posted their fifth straight victory by polishing off the Flyers, 73-64, in overtime. The teams were finalists in the National Invitation Tourney last spring.

On Tuesday La Salle visits Arizona. Friday the Explorers go to San Francisco to meet Santa Clara. They play Stanford Saturday.

Another Eastern independent powerhouse, Seton Hall of South Orange, N. J., also has a busy week ahead. The Setonians, who recorded their fifth triumph in a row Saturday by thrashing Kings (Pa.), 97-51, participate in three intersectional frays.

The Pirates play host to Louisville tonight and John Carroll Tuesday night and then clash with Western Kentucky Thursday at Madison Square Garden.

North Carolina State gets an opportunity to enhance its Southern Conference stature Thursday when the Wolfpack takes to the road against George Washington. They return home Saturday for an intersectional skirmish against Texas Tech.

The defending titlists are 3-1 in the league standings and have captured five out of six in overall competition. Last Saturday, they tripped previously unbeaten Eastern Kentucky, 88-75.

Louisiana State University, picked to replace idle Kentucky as the Southeastern Conference leader, opens its league schedule Wednesday at Alabama. With prolific-scoring Bob Pettit paving the way, LSU has amassed four successive victories over non-loop foes.

Illinois, rated as one of the nation's top-ranking quintets, launches defense of its Big Ten crown tonight against Michigan.

Minnesota, also a formidable contender for Big Ten supremacy, has taken three in a row, and is resting until Dec. 23 when it meets Illinois. The Gophers turned back Nebraska, 71-62, Saturday.

Another Midwest kingpin, unbeaten Kansas State, favored in the Big Seven race, engages in three intersectional tussles this week. The Wildcats, with a pair of close victories over Drake and Indiana, are at home with San Francisco tonight. They travel to East Lansing, Mich., Friday to meet Notre Dame and then face Michigan State the next night.

Kansas, the NCAA Tourney champion, aims to get back on the victory trail at the expense of SMU Friday and Saturday nights at Lawrence. The Jayhawks won their opener rather handily from Tulane, but were rudely jolted Saturday by Rice, 54-51.

Teams in the Southwest Conference concluded their first week of activity with Rice, Texas Christian and Texas emerging unscathed. Arkansas, the preseason favorite, was stung by Tulsa, but bounced back Saturday to crush Mississippi State, 102-71.

On the Pacific Coast, California has an unblemished slate in four nonconference games, while defending Champion UCLA and

St. Louis Defeats First-Place Barons

By The Associated Press

The resurgent Buffalo Bisons believe in doing things the hard way—but they're on the AHL victory trail, and that's what counts.

A week ago Buffalo was deep in the cellar, but today the Bisons are on a three-game winning streak and are only one point behind the sixth-place Providence Reds.

Buffalo overcame a 5-1 deficit to shade the Pittsburgh Hornets, 6-5, Sunday.

In other games played the Syracuse Warriors and the St. Louis Flyers both posted victories to gain ground on third place Pittsburgh.

Syracuse, in fourth place, downed the Providence Reds, 5-2, to move to within two points of the Hornets. The fifth place Flyers edged the league-leading Cleveland Barons, 4-3, and trail Pittsburgh by four points.

Mulloy, 'Mo' Rated Top '52 Tennis Players

NEW YORK (AP)—The oldest player in at least four decades to reach the finals of the National Men's Championships and one of the youngest women ever accorded national honors have been tentatively ranked first in the 1952 ratings of the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association.

But there probably will be considerable argument before 38-year-old Gardnar Mulloy of Coral Gables, Fla., is approved as the No. 1 male player at the association's annual meeting Jan. 17.

There's little likelihood, however, of a change in the Ranking Committee's selection of teen-aged Maureen Connolly of San Diego, Calif., as the country's foremost woman player. She has won the national crown two straight years and the 1952 All-England title at Wimbledon in completely outclassing her rivals.

In announcing the men's rankings, the committee cautioned that its selection merely were recommendations and that some of them might be changed at the annual meeting.

The committee placed the Davis Cup captain, Vic Seixas, in the No. 2 spot. And he's playing in the Davis Cup matches in Australia, where a good showing might possibly vault him past the veteran Mulloy.

Mulloy was ranked with Bill Talbert of New York as the No. 1 doubles team for the second straight year.

Below Mulloy and Seixas in the men's singles, the committee ranked Dick Savitt, Orange, N. J.; Herb Flam, Beverly Hills, Calif.; Talbert; Hamilton Richardson, Baton Rouge, La.; Tom Brown, San Francisco; Noel Brown, the former professional from Los Angeles, and Harry Likas Jr., San Francisco.

Added To North Squad

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The North squad for the Jan. 3 Senior Bowl game today boasted a potent backfield addition in the Big Ten's leading 1952 scorer.

Chuck Hren, Northwestern's 200-pound fullback, is among 21 players now on the North team's roster. He led his conference with 48 points this season.

He joined Indiana tackle Ed Roth and guard Pete Russo in signing for the annual classic here.

Use Metal Lath When Mending Plaster Cracks

One of the questions most frequently addressed to this column concerns plaster cracks and what to do about them.

Here, for instance, is one typical question: "Our bedroom has plaster cracks in the corners where the walls meet the ceiling. Also there are cracks which run diagonally from the corners of the windows. We used a preparation for fixing cracks, but after last winter's severe weather the cracks showed up again. How can they be fixed permanently?"

These cracks are happening at places where movements in the house are most likely to crack plaster. One way to have avoided the occurrence in the first place would have been to reinforce the plaster at those points with strips of metal lath over the board-type laths apparently used.

Assuming this metal lath was omitted, it is more than a little difficult to repair the cracks and remedy the condition.

To do so, the Metal Lath Manufacturer's Association recommends removing the plaster down to the lath on each side of the crack for a distance of three to four inches. Then fasten a strip of metal lath cut to the length and width of the patch and fill it with patching plaster.

If you cannot get a corner lath for the crack at the intersection of wall and ceiling, buy a sheet of diamond mesh metal lath from your building materials dealer and cut it into strips five to six inches wide. Bend these strips to fit the corner.

Metal lath can play an important part in construction or repair even if your home was planned to utilize some other form of lath.

If you are building a home or expanding an attic, using gypsum or fiberboard lath, it is well to put strips of metal lath at critical points to help reinforce against cracking. It should be placed at the corners of windows and doors.

By observing a few pre-installation precautions, you can be almost certain that the hardwood floors in your home will give lasting satisfaction.

For example, don't attempt to lay the flooring until all plaster work has dried. This may take two weeks or longer. It is also preferable that all other construction and painting be completed.

Have the lumber delivered about five days before installation, pile the flooring loosely inside the building and heat the house to about 70 degrees. Avoid delivery during snow or rain, if you can, and if not, protect it from dampness.

Hardwood flooring, as does any wood, absorbs moisture and expands when subjected to moist atmosphere contained in a room in which plaster is still wet. Later it contracts. The flooring would fit snugly at first, but then heat would drive out moisture, causing shrinkage that would produce cracks between the boards.

This effect is minimized at the mill by a kiln-drying process, but this doesn't preclude carelessness later.

Quizzing The Gardener

Q—How often should house plants be given an application of fertilizer?

A—Most house plants require monthly feeding when they are in active growth. A treatment once a month with a liquid complete fertilizer is recommended.

Q—What berries should be planted in the average back yard to attract birds?

A—The Flowering Dogwood and its close relations, the Shrub Dogwoods, provide excellent berries for 93 kinds of birds. Other suitable shrubs are the different varieties of Viburnum, Honeysuckle, Shadbush and Hawthorn.

Q—Do you have any books on how to plant flowers? If so, kindly send me a few.

A—Sorry, but we have no books on gardening.

Q—Will the Piggyback plant thrive in an apartment where the atmosphere is hot and dry?

A—No, this plant is a native of the Northwest coast, where it covers the ground in the woods alongside, creek streams.

Many Home Buyers Don't Read Contracts Carefully Enough

Few people realize the seriousness of the contract that is signed when you buy or sell a house. It is the most critical part of the deal.

Yet, so many houses are sold in a sort of over-the-counter manner today that many buyers scarcely read the legal document they tie themselves up with.

For instance, you see a sample house a builder has erected. You like it. You order one to be built like it. You put down a sizable deposit and sign a paper.

In most cases everything seems to turn out all right. But if trouble develops and you want to get out of the deal—want your money back, can you get it? That depends on many circumstances, sometimes on the builder and his whim among other things.

When should he give you your money back? You ordered him to start construction on a house for you. He has gone to a lot of expense and deserves to be paid. He can compel you to fulfill your part of the contract you signed. In other words, complete the deal and take ownership.

And after you have owned that house and want to sell it, you may go through the same thing with another careless buyer.

STILL MANY PEOPLE sign contracts without any legal guidance. Some say "Oh, I'll get a lawyer for the closing"—the day when title is taken. By that time it is too late for any lawyer to save your rights which you may have signed away in a one-sided contract.

Others even have said: "The builder has a lawyer for the closing; why should I have another lawyer there. One is enough." That lawyer himself could tell them that no man can faithfully serve two masters.

Undoubtedly one person there are so many lawyers is that people persist in getting themselves into so many legal jams.

In fact, real estate contracts are so serious and have so many ramifications that approximately 1,500 real estate lawyers got together recently in New York's Town Hall to hear a discussion of hazards that develop between the signing of a contract and taking of title.

The occasion was a semi-annual legal symposium sponsored by the Home Title Guaranty Co. of New York. If the discussion hadn't been so scholarly it might have been front page news for every home owner and potential home buyer in the country.

FOR EXAMPLE, what happens if a house burns down or is damaged by fire or other casualty after a contract to buy the property is signed? Is the buyer obliged to go ahead with the deal and take title to a property that is not in the same condition as when he contracted to buy it?

tracted to buy it? Is the seller obliged to restore it, regardless of cost?

A famous case was cited at the Town Hall symposium—A case which had been fought out at considerable expense in courts. "Fortunately," the legal expert recounted, "This property was apparently insured for its full value. However, in the past few years when building costs have been mounting steadily, we have seen many instances where property owners were under-insured. If such an owner should contract to sell and assume the risk of damage pending closing of title, a destruction of the premises would be disastrous."

And of course, fire is not the only hazard. Cases were cited where steam pipes, not covered by insurance, had burst. Other instances involved parts of water-front lots washing away before title closing.

A MOST INTERESTING problem was brought up in connection with zoning restrictions being changed before title closing. Such changes can seriously affect the value of a property. A case was cited where a man owned an acre and a half. He contracted to sell an acre of the plot, retaining a half-acre for his own house. The zoning law was changed to limit home-sites in that neighborhood to one acre as a minimum. This would leave the title to the seller's own half-acre unmarketable. Is he compelled to fulfill his contract to sell?

Or suppose you sign a contract to buy and then have a survey made and discover that a wall of the house stands on a neighbor's land, or that the neighbor's wall stands on your land. This probably sounds like a small matter that you can overlook, as long as the neighbor overlooks it. But can you get a mortgage on such property?

Answers to all of these questions have been sought in the courts and depend on many different state laws. And they are only a few of the responsibilities involved in the signing of a contract. When 1,500 lawyers can become concerned with consequences of contracts, it is no time for a home owner to think he can take the law into his own hands.

Credit Easing Aided Building

Housing Showed Gain During October

Government and industry experts agreed today that the removal of government curbs on housing credit two months ago gave the booming housing industry only a very slight boost.

Sales of higher priced homes increased a fraction and housing starts rose about 5 per cent in the month after Regulation X was dropped. But the "bull" market for homes some builders and salesmen expected just has not developed.

Decontrol has apparently had little or no effect on rental housing. However, it gave a "tremendous" push to commercial building, but this type building comprises only a small portion of overall residential and industrial building.

The experts said the main roadblock has been a shortage of mortgage funds, particularly for Veterans Administration mortgages at 4 per cent interest. Lenders generally find they can get higher interest on their money if they invest it elsewhere.

Mortgage brokers and banks have not eased their terms to any great extent.

Government officials were frankly happy that the shortage of low-interest mortgage money has held back home sales and housing starts. They feared that otherwise the trade would undergo a runaway boom, followed by a "bust."

Industry leaders were a little disappointed that the market had not picked up more than it has. But they were glad to be rid of the government controls.

Both sides stressed that Regulation X has not been off long enough to allow any final judgments as to its effect. But they were willing to agree that it had not affected the industry, violently, as some had predicted.

They had one solid figure to work with; housing starts in October, first month of decontrol, totaled 101,000. Seasonally adjusted, this figures out to an annual rate of 1,156,000 dwelling units.

In September there were 98,000 housing starts and, seasonally adjusted this was at the rate of 1,091,000 units a year. This boost on a yearly basis amounted to slightly better than a 5.5 per cent increase.

A National Reserve Board economist pointed out, however, that not all of this increase should be credited to the dropping of Regulation X.

At $12,000 the customers must have at least a $2,400 down payment. "A house designed to sell for $12,000 to $12,500 today is the practical equivalent of a $6,000 house at the end of the war because of the dollar depreciation."

"The potential customer in this income group can less afford a 20 per cent down payment now than he could the 10 per cent required a few years ago," he said. "Innumerable potential customers who want and need homes of this type are being slowly but steadily deprived of the opportunity of home ownership."

Colton warns that failure to correct the present mortgage limits of FHA "must inevitably lead to a sharp reduction in home building volume."

FIRE DAMAGES SCHOOL

CINCINNATI (AP) — The kitchen and luncheon of the Cheviot public school were damaged heavily by fire of undetermined origin Sunday but school authorities said all pupils are to report to their classes as usual today.

tough tasks lie ahead. Such spiritual preparedness, in our embattled world, is as necessary as physical armament. A free citizenry, expecting its soldiers honorably to face the enemy, must itself, honestly face reality.

"I return, however, with a renewed confidence that a satisfactory solution in Korea can be speeded. I know it will demand common sense and care, much foresight and much patience. But not more in Korea than anywhere else in the world is honorable peace beyond the power of free men to achieve when they pursue it intelligently and energetically."

In another passage he said: "I believe the architects of aggression can be made to realize that it would be fateful folly to ignore other conflagrations like the Korean conflict elsewhere in the world."

The general said the purpose of his trip was to look, listen and learn.

He mentioned the civil and military leaders he had seen, including Syngman Rhee, President of the Republic of Korea.

Perhaps significantly, he listed "our military advisory representative from Formosa" as one of the officers with whom he had a conference.

POW Mutiny

ances is from below, a fact which increases the effectiveness of missiles thrown by the internees and denies effective use of such mass control weapons as concussion and tear gas grenades. At the time of the uprising, the wind was blowing laterally across the steep hill making impossible the use of tear gas to quell the rioters.

"An estimated 3,600 of the camps population of 9,000 internees participated in the simultaneous action in six separate compounds of inclosure No. 2. The action started when prisoners in the six compounds, each containing approximately 600 persons, organized and continued military drills and demonstrations in each compound in defiance of lawful orders. Moving according to plan they massed at the top of a high terrace where three ranks with locked arms defied advancing troops while others above the tight ranks hurled a shower of stones which kept U. N. troops from ascending the steep incline.

"Orders, warning shots and riot guns had no effect on the organized mob and when three waves of fanatical Communists advanced on the guards, individual weapons were brought to bear when their power became necessary to prevent the entire mass from breaking out.

"Immediately after the action quieted down, casualties were moved to the beach and evacuated by ship to the field hospital at nearby Koje and to an aid station at Choguri, another camp on the southern tip of Koje. Eighty-three of the wounded were moved to the main camp at Koje and 37 were moved to Choguri.

"Many of the mutineers formerly were inmates of infamous Compound 62 on Kone—the compound which erupted with such violence on Feb. 18, 1952.

"Die-hard Communists, these internees were sent to Pongam in June when the large, Koje compounds were broken up. In the matter of repatriation they had elected individually to return to Communist control.
